VI. FOUR-WAY TEST

It was developed by Herbert J. Taylor (1932) upon taking over the operation of the nearly defunct Club Aluminum Company. In July 1932, Taylor prayed for guidance – then wrote what became known as the Four – Way Test. He put it under the glass top of his desk and struggled for 60 days to LIVE by the precepts. He presented it to the department heads: A Roman Catholic, a Christian Scientist, an Orthodox Jew, and a Presbyterian. All agreed it coincided with their religious ideals. They all tried it – it worked! Taylor copyrighted the idea, later became R.I President and later gave the Four-Way Test to R. I (That Aluminum Company is now Alcoa Corporation)
